Vets Demand Return Of 'Vietnam' Awards

Former acting postmaster Joseph Wolf has been petitioned by John L. Horan, assistant department historian of the Illinois American Legion to return Project Vietnam citations which Wolf allegedly took with him when he went out of office.

The letter was sent out after numerous requests to Wolf to return the plaques won by the Antioch Postoffice personnel for their participation in the project.

In his letter Horan said: "It has been brought to the attention of the Illinois American Legion Historians' Association by two veterans groups, The Antioch American Legion Post No. 748 and the above mentioned association whereby a very bad situation took place of a serious nature at the time that a change of acting postmaster was put into effect.

"At the time of the removal of Joseph Wolf, acting postmaster and before leaving his position, he removed from the lobby wall certain items of recognition in the form of printed citations.

"These citations were presented with honors by the above veterans groups to the Antioch Post office personnel for their outstanding service and full cooperation with the project known in and around the Antioch community as 'Project Vietnam.'

"Now the said veterans groups have come forth with demands upon you, Joseph Wolf, as the former acting postmaster, that certain items of citations be immediately returned to the wall within the lobby of the Antioch

23,140 GI Enrollment Is Expected

An estimated 23,140 Post-Korean veterans will be enrolled this fall in education and training in Illinois under the G.I. Bill, John B. Naser, Manager of Veterans Administration's Regional Office in Chicago, reported.

In addition, approximately 600 servicemen in Illinois are expected to enter training this fall under the Post-Korean G.I. Bill which grants educational benefits to military personnel with at least two consecutive years of active duty as well as to veterans who served on active duty for more than 180 days, part of which was after Jan. 31, 1955.

Nationally, Naser said, about 523,000 Post-Korean veterans and 30,000 servicemen are expected to be enrolled this fall in education and training under the G.I. Bill. More than 340,000 will be using their education entitlement for the first time.

This will be the highest fall enrollment since the Post-Korean G.I. Bill granting VA educational assistance of up to 36 months to eligible veterans went into effect on June 1, 1966, the manager said.

With this record participation in the offering, veterans in Illinois who will be entering training for the first time under the G.I. Bill or who will be changing schools or courses this fall should apply immediately to the Chicago VA Regional Office for their Certificate of Eligibility.

Naser pointed out that a veteran who applies now for his certificate can be certain that his G.I. Bill education allowance will be dated from the day school begins.

However, if he fails to apply for the certificate, until after school has started there may be a delay in payment of his allowance.

Of the 23,140 veterans who will be entered in education or training in Illinois, approximately 11,800 will be enrolled in institutions of higher learning.

More than 9,800 veterans and about 500 servicemen are expected to enter schools below the college level.

Since servicemen are not eligible for on-the-job training, all of the expected 1,550 G.I. Bill on-the-job trainees in Illinois this fall will be veterans, Naser said.

If the experience of the first two years of the Post-Korean G.I. Bill obtains this fall, the veterans in training will be almost evenly divided between Post-Korean service (after Jan. 31, 1955) and Viet-Nam era service (after Aug. 4, 1964), the manager said.

Under the Post-Korean G.I. Bill, an eligible veteran is entitled to one month of VA education assistance, up to a maximum of 36 months (four school years), for each month of service.

VA educational assistance under this program ranges from a monthly allowance of $130 or more (depending upon the number of dependents) for full-time institutional training to payment (Continued on page three)

The People And The Program

(LAST IN SERIES)

Commenting recently on the water crisis faced throughout America, Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall said: "Water is the conservation scandal of our generation."

But, now something is being done to conserve the vital supply and purity of the air and water as programs begin moving from the planning stage toward action.

The first step in Illinois toward combating the declining air, water, and land resources, and increasing pollution problems was taken when officials took a long, close look at the resources. From this scouting came the detailed report, "Water for Illinois, A Plan for Action." The report covers the conditions now existing in the State and sets forth constructive recommendations for correcting the deficiencies.

The action program was launched last year when the 75th General Assembly passed, on a bipartisan basis, the referendum entitled the Illinois Resource Development Bond Issue. The one billion dollar proposal is the first comprehensive attempt to manage the State's resources.

In presenting the plan for action to the legislature, former Governor Otto Kerner said: "For too long we have relied on piecemeal measures to solve our resources problems. The program will be no good unless we put the recommendations into the reality of clean streams, water and open space for recreation, safe water supplies, and freedom from destructive floods."

The referendum proposal would provide the financial means to meet the needs of Illinois from 1968 to 1980 -- and would prepare the way for a long range program through the next half century.

To help inform the public as to the growing problems of air and water resources, a statewide citizen's committee was formed. Called the Illinoisans for Pure Air and Water, the Committee is headed by Maynard P. Venema of Northfield and William L.

Rutherford of Peoria.

"Our purpose is to alert citizens to the problems we face and point out some of the ways we can combat the crisis," explained Rutherford. "We don't have much time to lose in Illinois if we are to successfully conserve our resources."

"The development of flood control facilities, proper management of water supplies, and creation of outdoor recreational areas for our citizens have been too long delayed through indecision and indifference," he explained.

Venema pointed out, "The air and water problems we face do not defy solution. We have the technology to slow down, and in some instances completely halt, the pollution of air and water. We know how to create conservation areas and provide recreational facilities. But, knowing these things doesn't help if we fail to instigate the needed programs."

"The fundamental purpose of the proposed bond referendum is to help finance the programs needed to provide pure air to breathe and clean water to drink; to clean up waterways for navigation and recreation; provide water for industry and farming, and prevent floods," Venema said.

On an economic basis, Rutherford pointed out that Illinois is losing incalculable amounts of (Continued on page two)

Village Board Approves $203,700 In Tax Levies

The Antioch Village Board of Trustees Tuesday night passed a tax levy calling for $203,700 in the general corporate fund and $144,000 for special purposes.

Village Attorney Edward Jacobs told the trustees that the levy was probably more than the village would get but that no one knew how much the assessed valuation would be.

The general corporate fund was broken down into 12 categories.

The department and the amount of money levied included: Administrative department - $3,500; Police Department - $12,000; Public Works and Buildings - $8,000; Street lighting - $2,000; Health Services - $100.

Legal Department - $2,000; Parking meter operations - $3,000; Parks and playgrounds - $1,600; Off-street parking - $3,500; Village planning and zoning - $1,000; Street department - $19,000; Fire protection purposes - $19,000; Street and Bridge Fund - $20,000; Bonded indebtedness - for principal and interest under water and sewer general obligation bonds under an ordinance passed and approved Dec. 1, 1961 - $27,000; Social Security contribution fund - $6,500; Civil Defense Fund - $1,800; General Liability Insurance Fund - $1,500; Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund - $8,500.

The street and bridge fund, Jacobs explained, is being levied at .10 per cent of assessed valuation because in past years the funds have been rapidly depleted and money had to be borrowed from the general fund.

Jacobs said that the full levy would not be realized because only about 92 per cent is collected each year.

The levy, of course, is much lower than the appropriation ordinance because of the fact that the village derives income from other sources than taxes.

In other action the village board approved the payment of $447.78 to the T and H Engineering Co., which designed the new stop and go light at Main and Lake Streets.

Most of the village trustees reported that they had received nothing but compliments from the installation of the new light -- but there had been a few grumblings. The board also decided to look into the possibility of purchasing an auxiliary generator because of the recent power failure during the storm last Friday.

Civil Defense Director Edward J. Frazier said he had brochure and information on a generator that would do the job and the cost would be in the neighborhood of $1,700.

Mayor Raymond Toft said that it would be nice to have, but reminded Frazier that the cost of the generator is almost the two-year income for the civil defense fund.

He admitted that it would be nice to have but there was not enough money available.

Frazier reminded the mayor that the generator could be purchased on a matching fund basis with the federal government but admitted he has had to wait a long time for the funds to come in.

Trustee Vern L. Barnstable told his colleagues that the sidewalk self-help program, where the resident paid 50 per cent matched by the city, was nearly complete.

Barnstable said that only two sidewalks remained to be installed under the program.

Mayor Toft also reported that village treasurer Mrs. Martha Hunter was still ailing and would have to return to the hospital on Wednesday for further treatment.

Illinois Has Many Overlapping Gov'ts

Illinois ranks first among the states in number of local governments, with 6,453 as of January, 1967, according to Maurice W. Scott, Executive Vice President of the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois.

Scott commented that the Illinois General Assembly should have a good look at the multiplicity of local governments, the overlapping authority and the wide variance in taxing power, before giving any further consideration to the creation of more local taxing authorities.

There are 102 counties in Illinois consisting of two forms of government. The township form, of which there are 85, is governed by a board of supervisors, and the commission form, numbering 17, is governed by a board of commissioners. The 85 township counties are made up of 1432 townships governed by the electors at the annual town meeting.

Municipalities number 1256 in Illinois, consisting of cities, villages, and incorporated towns. Also there are 1350 school districts in the State. While Illinois has done a commendable job, in school consolidation, Scott noted that there are areas of the State that still need attention in this regard.

The largest category of local government is the special district. This category is made up of 2313 special purpose governments with a primary function ranging from Mosquito Abatement to Mass Transportation. Drainage Districts numbering 811 comprise the largest single group in this area, followed by Fire Protection and Park Districts with 704 and 217 respectively.

There are commissions and authorities listed under special districts which are limited in scope so as to only apply to a small segment of Illinois or to a particular problem within the State, while there are those created to handle situations of a general application throughout the State.

One might be curious to know what the property tax price tag is for the services rendered by these governments. The local property taxes extended and collectible for 1967 totaled $1,823,993,442. School districts received $1,088,213,130 (59.66%); Cities and Villages $332,522,866 (19.33%); Counties $134,728,285 (7.39%); Townships and Road Districts $80,071,183 (4.39%); Special District groups received $168,457,978 (9.23%).

While it is only realistic to assume that few of these governments can be abolished, Scott commented that consideration be given to the study in depth of possible consolidation before any further expansion of local governments is contemplated.

History Repeats?

Politics is a funny game and this year the office of President and Vice President might be thrown into the Congress.

The candidates must win a majority of the electoral votes to be declared the victor. If there is no clear-cut majority then the House selects the President and the Senate selects the Vice President.

The possibility of such a dilemma is caused by the fact that the former governor of Alabama, George Wallace is in the race.

This fact is giving the GOP fits and no doubt when the Democrats select their nominees, they will also run scared.

The fact that the GOP is worried was brought home by recent statements of Michigan Rep. Gerald R. Ford, House Republican leader, who is imploring his workers to come home with a majority in 26 states.

Ford has expressed the fact that to do this the GOP must make significant gains.

There are 29 states today with Democratic-controlled delegations in the House and only 18 states where Republicans are in control.

It is reasonable to assume that a Democratic president would be named under these circumstances.

Ford points out that in three states, Oregon, Illinois and Montana they are tied and under the constitution would lose their votes entirely — because each state casts only one vote.

And the fly in the ointment, Wallace, is popular in the Southern states and those who follow the political scene give him Alabama, Georgia and possibly Louisiana.

The last time there was an electoral deadlock was way back in 1824.

In that year, there were four candidates for President — Andrew Jackson, John Quincy Adams, Henry Clay and William Crawford.

Jackson received 43 per cent of the popular vote and 37 per cent of the electoral vote. Adams was next with 30 per cent of the popular vote and 32 per cent of the electoral vote.

The House went for Adams.

And another factor that might be of interest is that if the House cannot decide on a president, the then vice president takes over until it does decide.

History might be making a full circle this year — after 144 years.

A Forced Pause

We are concerned these days with material things such as homes, cars, education for the kids, and a comfortable living.

And that is as it should be in the materialistic world we live in.

But every now and again we are brought up short.

This happened last Friday when old Mother Nature once again exerted her mastery of the situation.

And we found that the lights wouldn't work, the car became wet and stalled, the trees hit the homes and the people looked in anxiety for the safety of their children.

We cooked by candlelight and the burn we received on our hand was worth it. It was excitement and the idiot box was out of order and peace and quiet once again hit the household.

The storm did a lot of damage as far as power lines and trees down was concerned.

But it certainly brought to a halt our fast-paced society so that for just a little while things slowed down so we could catch up.

We might be in the minority.
But we enjoyed it.

money each year because of the lack of adequate resources.

"Illinois now suffers an average of $30 million a year in flood damage," he explained. "And, this figure is likely to spiral upward unless steps are taken immediately."

Both Rutherford and Veneria emphasized that Illinois loses millions of dollars each year in tourism income because of the insufficient water and recreation facilities. They also explained that the wealth of Illinois depends upon industry, agriculture and transportation — all areas in which air and water purity and supply is essential.

"We have to not only consider today's needs, but the demands that will be placed upon our resources in the future," Rutherford said. "The Bond Issue is the only feasible way we can battle the problems and come out ahead in the situation now facing us."

Horan asked for Wolf's full cooperation in the matter and sent copies of the letter to the present acting postmaster Robert Carter and Donald L. Swanson, regional director of the Postal Department.

When Wolf left the postal department after Carter won the appointment he attempted to turn over the money left in the project fund to another group.

The postal employees, however, voted to continue with the project.

They have been hampered because along with the citations that were received, the mailing lists of the Antioch boys serving in Vietnam was also taken.

The postal employees have managed to gather up a list but would still be interested in having the addresses of anyone who is serving in Vietnam from this area.

Research Conducted On Mongoloids

Fresh light on the causes of mongolism is expected from massive research project nearing completion in Canada's province of Manitoba. Since 1960, geneticists there have been gathering data on 453 mongoloid children and their families. The work should be completed next year. Research has already indicated that parents with children who have noninherited mongolism are more likely to have been damaged by diagnostic irradiation than the parents of mongoloids of the trisomic, or inherited, type.

A one-day state-wide farm-city conference on "The Changing Face of Illinois" has been scheduled for September 26 in Chicago's Palmer House, according to Donald R. Pacey, secretary of the Committee of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce.

Sponsored by the Farm-City Committee of Illinois and the Business Relations Committee, the seminar is also receiving the cooperation of Chicago Agribusiness Club, the Chicago Farm Economics Club and the Chicago Farmers Club.

"To be announced at a later date are the program and speakers for the conference which will emphasize areas of common interest between rural and urban people," Pacey noted. "It will also provide a forum for exchange and dissemination of information relating to changes taking place in the economic structure of midwest agriculture," he added.

Also on the agenda are such topics as population expansion and migration, decentralization of industry and employment trends, economic growth, and county and state revenue problems and their effect on agriculture and industry.

Plastic Cow Recovered By Woman

Ann Bieganowski of 114 Bluff Drive, Antioch thought that she was seeing things last week as she drove to her sister's home.

On arrival she told her sister of seeing a giant cow, lying by the side of the road, with its feet straight up in the air!

They returned to the scene and on examination, saw that the cow was made of plastic and weighed around 200 lbs.

A relative who returned to the scene with the women, said it looked like the cow atop the Cowbarn Restaurant at Bluff Lake Road and Grass Lake Road.

Joseph Farrin, owner of the restaurant, was contacted. Farrin had reported the theft of the cow from atop the building Sunday to sheriff's police. The cow had been bolted to the roof and had a light inside it. Farrin immediately sent a truck to the spot to pick up his cow.

It will again be sent to pasture atop Ye Old Cowbarn restaurant.

Gas Customers To Get Refund

Northern Illinois Gas Company customers will benefit from a rate refund of nearly $12 million over the next year, according to W.J. Crowley, the utility's executive vice president.

NI-Gas' principal supplier, Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America, has refunded $11,978,000 as a result of orders of the Federal Power Commission. It represents the difference between rates actually charged by the pipeline supplier between February 3, 1964, and December 1, 1967, and rates that would have been charged under the FPC ruling.

The refund will be reflected in bills for gas used after July 31 through a reduction in the company's purchased gas adjustment. Crowley said that the company's residential space heating customers will realize an average decrease in their gas bills of more than $6 per customer over the next 12 months.

Grass Lake Cub Scouts Have Picnic

Boy Scout Troop 80 of Grass Lake School returned home last Friday after spending 10 days at Camp Ma-ka-jaw-nah near Antioch, Wisconsin.

The Grass Lake Scouts who went to camp are: Steve Albright, Bill Beese, Tom Morrison, Larry Yopp, Larry Lloyd, Bob Steiskal, Wally Malecki and Dave Young. Scoutmaster Lee Ipsen and assistant scoutmaster Earl Beese accompanied the boys.

The scoutmasters proved that they are still in good shape by joining Larry Yopp, Bob Steiskal, Bill Beese and Larry Lloyd in the mile swim.

A 20 mile canoe trip down the Wolf River was enjoyed by all.

Fifteen boys from various Scout Troops at the Camp were selected to participate in the Scout Beauty Contest. Steve Albright was chosen as Troop 80's entrant and Steve won third place honors in the contest as "Miss Poland".

AIR MONITOR

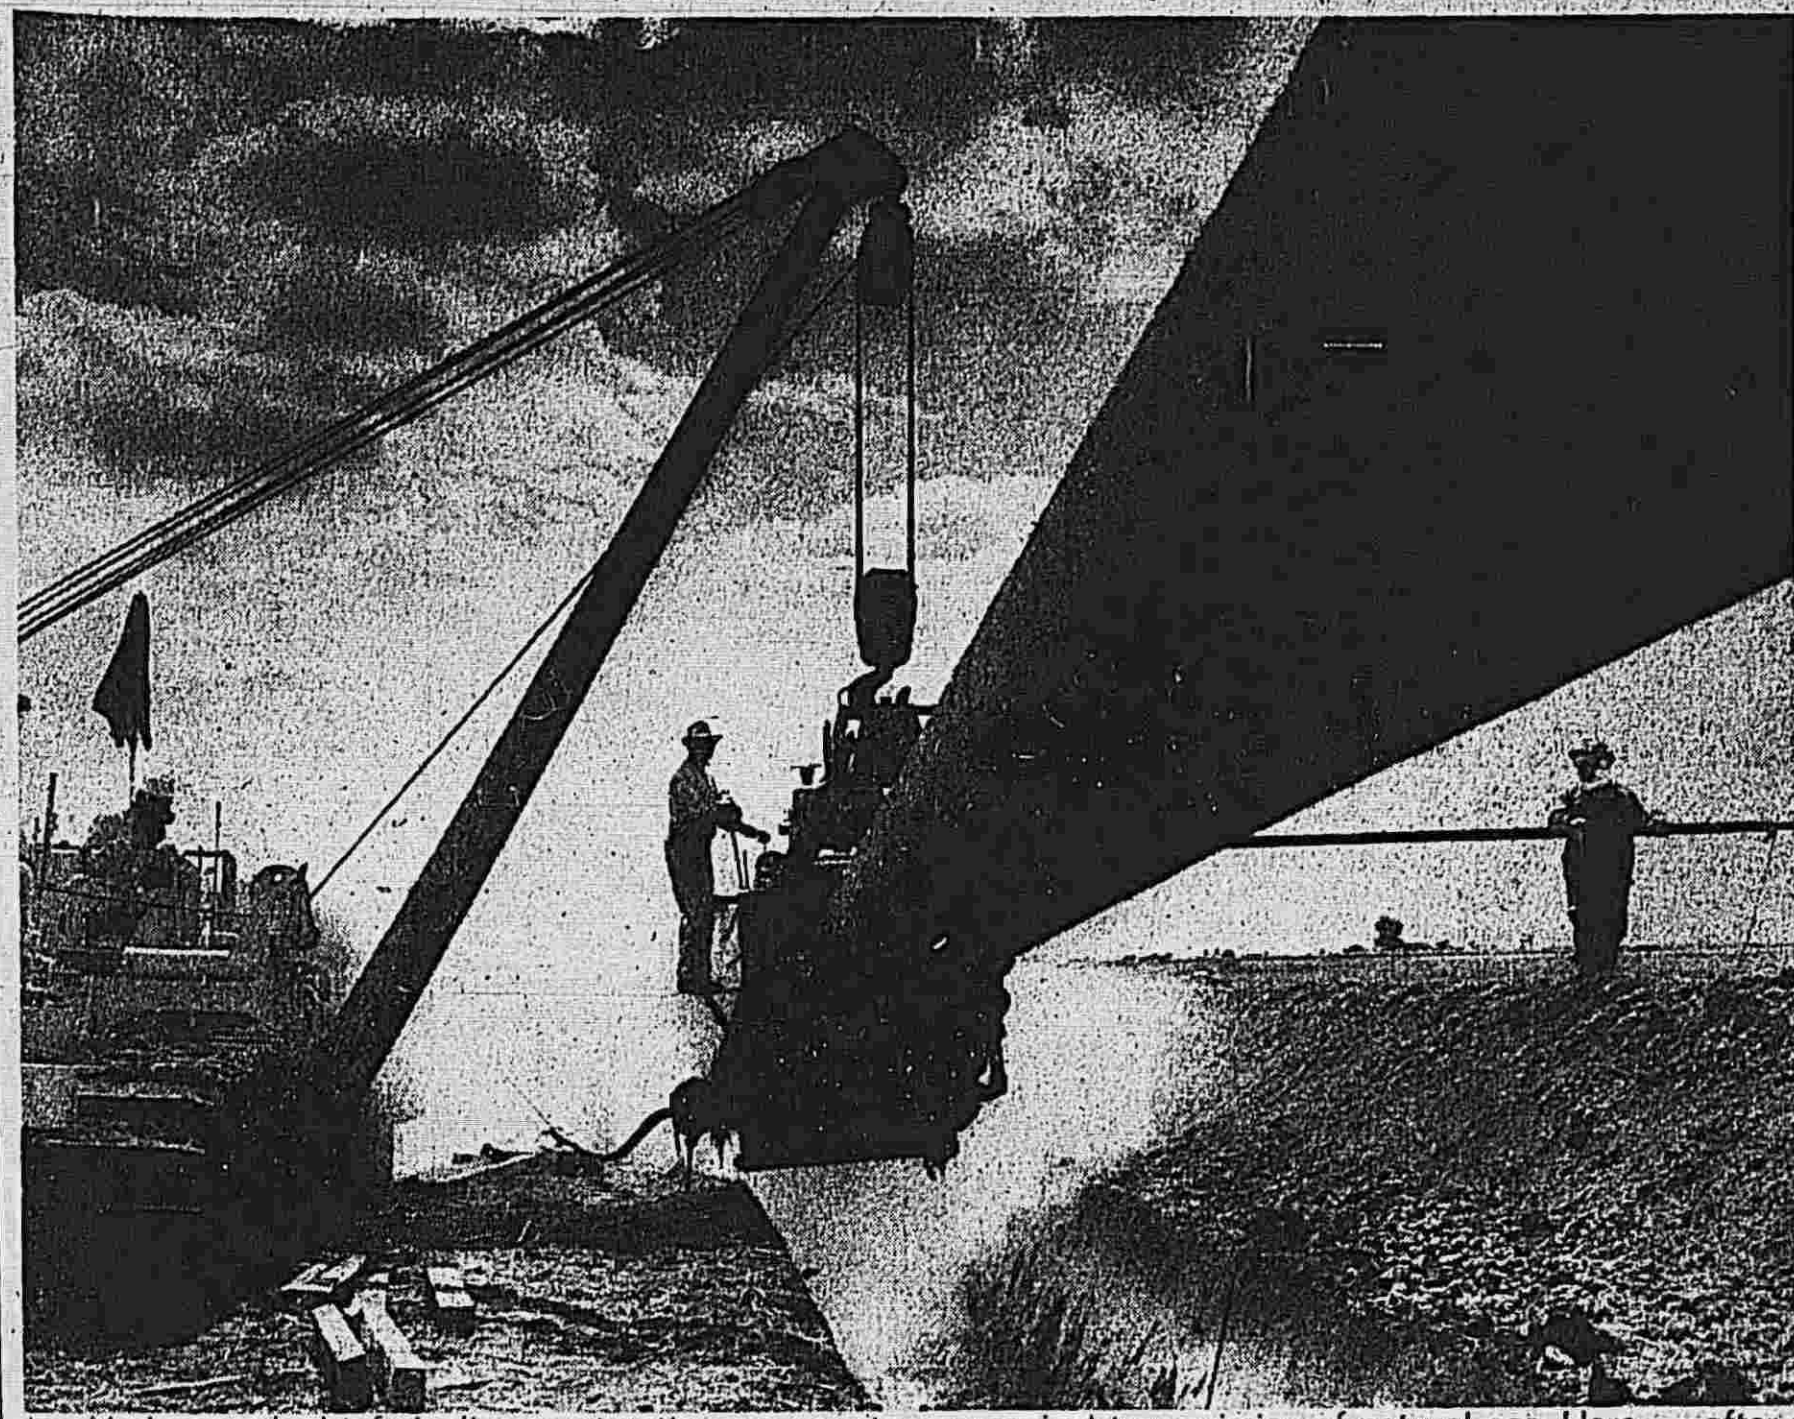

Preliminary plans for development of an automated air quality monitoring system were announced last week by Gov. Samuel H. Shapiro. A study will be made of all types of air pollutants, monitoring devices and associated meteorological data and means of channeling this information to the data bank of the Department of Public Health.

From there the information will be distributed to those concerned with the problems of pollution and public health, the Governor explained.

The regional office manager explained that veterans have eight years from the date of their discharge from active duty to use their Post-Korean G.I. Bill education and training benefits. However, he said, veterans released from active duty between Jan. 31, 1955 and June 1, 1966 have until May 31, 1974 to use these benefits.

Modern methods of pipeline construction assure safe, economical transmission of natural gas. Here — after x-rays were taken of all welded joints — a giant 36-inch line for Northern Illinois Gas Company is coated, wrapped and tested before being buried by a four-foot earth cover. The NI-Gas system contains 16,400 miles of main, including 111 miles of 36-inch pipe, to serve its nearly one million customers.

Why wait for a gas self-cleaning oven?

Go out and buy one.

The ranges good cooks have been holding out for are here. New gas ranges with self-cleaning ovens. (And everything else.)

The oven cleans itself automatically. Reduces dirt and soil to clean, white, wipe-away ash. And you can even vary the cleaning cycle according to the amount of soil in your oven. But that won't help you cook any better.

What will...are the features of gas ranges. Traditional ones, like precision control of every phase of top-of-stove cooking. And new exciting ones...like automatic cooking and gas infrared broiling.

(Gas infrared broiling units cook quickly...provide eye-appealing browning, too.)

See the new gas ranges with self-cleaning ovens at your nearest Northern Illinois Gas Company office or appliance dealer.

The ladies in attendance voted to nominate their 1969 officers in September, elect them in October and install them in January, when they take office. CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

Congregations in Christian Science Churches around the world will hear a Lesson-Sermon this Sunday on "Mind." At First Church of Christ, Scientist, BEACON HILL, Rte. 173 and Harden, Antioch, services will begin at 11 A.M.

The Golden Text is from Daniel: "Blessed be the name of God for ever and ever: for wisdom and might are his."

Selections to be read from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following: "Having one God, one Mind, unfolds the power that heals the sick," and fulfills these sayings of Scripture, "I am the Lord that healeth thee," and "I have found a ransom." When the divine precepts are understood, they unfold the foundation of fellowship, in which one mind is not at war with another, but all have one Spirit, God, one intelligent source, in accordance with the Scriptural command: "Let this Mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus."

Personal Days Out For AGS School Employees

The Antioch grade school board signed a contract Tuesday night for the leasing of two classrooms at the Antioch Methodist Church for $100 per room per month for the school year. The Antioch Grade School and Oakland Kindergarten will have classes there this year.

The school board was advised by Ted Larson, school attorney, of the position taken by N. E. Johnson, Assistant State Superintendent of Schools, in charge of local matters, relative to personal days being granted by the boards of education. He indicated that this is illegal and the boards of education cannot legally grant personal days to their employees. Therefore, the two personal days that have been granted by the board of District 34 will have to be rescinded and Richard Whitacre was authorized to inform the employees of this action.

The board voted their approval for eligible students from this district to attend Special Education classes in other districts in Lake County. Antioch Grade School has five of these students at the present time.

Tuition cost for out of district students was set at $625 per year for full time students and $312.50 for kindergarten students. Bus routes for 1968-1969 were approved by the board.

The school was authorized to install telephones in the halls at Oakland and Antioch buildings for use of teachers and students.

The board voted to employ the architectural firm of Orput and Orput of Rockford in connection with the construction of the new building and school attorney Ted Larson was instructed to get in touch with them relative to drawing up a contract.

The purchase of a walk-in cooler and freezer to be installed at the Oakland building was tabled because board members felt that it would not be adequate to meet the needs of the school. Plans are to put in a large walk-in cooler and freezer combination in the new building to serve the needs of the school's cafeteria.

An invitation was extended to all board members and their spouses to attend a luncheon for all school employees on Sept. 3.

Children will be registered Tuesday morning, Sept. 3, and bus service will be in effect. The teachers will have a workshop in the afternoon.

Four States Reach Pollution Agreement

An agreement between Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin to halt further pollution of Lake Michigan by pesticides and economic poisons was signed last week. The lake is the only one of the Great Lakes wholly within the United States.

About 80 per cent of its 1,661 miles of shoreline has recreation potential and the lake supports a variety of aquatic life. Increasing traces of pesticides have been found in aquatic plants and life, affecting their lives and reproductive potentials. The agreement will strengthen research and enforcement of means to control indiscriminate use of persistent pesticides and other economic poisons destructive to aquatic life.

Every stop sign is a danger sign. But the danger can be reduced simply by stopping and yielding the right-of-way to approaching traffic, as required by law.

Storm Hits Antioch Area

Lake County was struck by a heavy rain and windstorm last Friday afternoon which caused considerable property damage throughout the county.

Commonwealth Edison and county highway crews were on the job around the clock repairing wires and clearing fallen trees from the roads.

A giant tree on the Antioch High School grounds on Main Street fell close to the building. Antioch was without power in some areas for as long as two hours. Stores were prepared for the "black-out" with large battery powered spotlights.

Probably one of the hardest hit areas in last Friday's storm was Indian Point. Electricity was out from 4:50 p.m. Friday to 2 p.m. Saturday. Residents found their hot water tanks an ideal source of supply for water.

A portion of the roofing of the new gymnasium at Grass Lake School blew off during the storm, but there was no extensive damage to the gymnasium.

Electric wires were down in many places and roads were blocked by fallen trees and wires. A falling tree ripped the electric wires off the house of Mrs. Bessie Spychal. Ole Mathisen reported seeing a lightning fireball strike a tree in the yard of his neighbor across the road.

Victor Malock suffered cuts when the wind caused breakage of a picture window in her home.

Petite Lake area residents were without electricity for over five hours and telephone wires were out in several areas.

The tent at Mr. L's Carousel Theatre at Midland Country Club was knocked down by the storm and the current production of "Funny Girl" was moved to Lake Forest College.

INDIAN POINT NEWS

Newcomers to Indian Point include Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Weiss of Chicago, who recently purchased the John Kjellstrand home.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dodgson of Waukegan, moved into the Harold L. Grant home. The Grant family are now living in Fox Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gliniewicz and two children from Round Lake have also moved to Indian Point on Ackerman Road.

Salem Meth. to be Project Church

The Town and Country Commission of the East Wisconsin Conference of the United Methodist Church unanimously declared the Salem United Methodist Church to be a Special Project Church of the Commission.

This means that the Salem Church is to become an example for other churches located in rural areas, but serving people whose occupations and social activities take them to urban centers. The projects carried out by the Salem church will assist other churches.

The Co-ordinating Committee of the Salem Church has unanimously voted to carry out a survey of the Paddock Lake-Salem Oaks area on Sunday, Sept. 8.

Plans are being made to prepare an attractive yet inexpensive brochure which will show pictures of the church, a picture map of the area and provide information concerning worship and educational programs and highlight the church calendar listing major meetings and events. This brochure will be for public relations purposes and be available for wide distribution.

Fred Lentz Rescued By Burlington Man Near No. Vietnam

The Captain of the 1959 Salem Central High School football team was rescued from the Gulf of Tonkin off the coast of North Vietnam, by a helicopter co-piloted by the co-captain of the 1959 Burlington High School football team.

Lt. Frederick C. Lentz Jr., 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Lentz Sr. of Salem, bailed out of his damaged jet attack aircraft about 15 miles from the ship. He was out of the water about 20 minutes later.

Lt. Thomas L. Olson, 26, of Burlington was the co-pilot of a helicopter which picked up Lentz.

Both of the young officers left Norfolk with the USS America an aircraft carrier, in early April. After a training and inspection period in the Caribbean, the carrier stopped at Rio de Janeiro before rounding the Cape of Good Hope, crossing the Indian Ocean and reaching Subic Bay P.I. at the end of a 16,000 mile trip.

Lentz is married to the former Joanne Hampel of Kenosha, Wis.

Home Loan Activity Increases

On a seasonally adjusted annual basis G.I. home loan activities in two of three major categories were higher in June than in May, the Veterans Administration reported.

Appraisal requests on proposed dwellings in June totaled 119,000, up 8.2 per cent from the 110,000 in May, while appraisal requests on existing dwellings climbed to 199,000 in June, 4.2 per cent higher than May's figure of 191,000.

In the third category, housing starts in June, on a seasonally adjusted annual basis, were 5.3 per cent less than in May, totaling 54,000 compared with 57,000.

Other seasonally adjusted annual rates show that: on both proposed and existing dwellings were down from the same month in 1967. Requests on proposed dwellings dropped 11.9 per cent from last June's total of 145,000 and requests on existing dwellings declined 20.7 per cent from the June 1967 figure of 251,000.

The 54,000 housing starts in June 1968 was 5.9 per cent higher than the same month a year ago.

Based on a monthly comparison, June 1968 housing starts of 4,930 were 10.4 per cent under May's 5,500 and 4.8 per cent lower than the 5,180 of June 1967.

Appraisal requests on proposed dwellings totaled 10,290 in June, down 6.1 per cent from May's 10,957 and 19.7 per cent under the 12,821 total of June 1967.

Similarly, the 19,680 appraisal on existing dwellings in June were 2.7 per cent below the May figure of 20,234 and 28.0 per cent below the 27,320 in the same month a year ago.

Applications for home loan guaranty reached 20,041 in June, were down 6.6 per cent from the May figure of 21,463 and 22.6 per cent below the 25,878 of June 1967.

The Chicago Motor Club-AAA advises drivers that if you can't see pavement between your car and the one ahead, you're following too closely, regardless of your speed. It's recommended that you remain one car length behind the car ahead of you for every 10 miles of speed. Following too closely increases the risk of rear-end collision.

Personality Changes Can Follow Measles

Measles can be followed by overt personality changes as well as mental retardation associated with serious learning problems, it was reported by Dr. Edmund Bradley in a recent issue of Medical World News. According to Dr. Bradley, a Maryland pediatrician, nuclear bodies have been found in the cytoplasm of brain cells from 15 of 20 children dying of measles. He also reported that a study of children with measles showed that half of them had experienced abnormal changes in their electro-encephalograms — a measurement of the electrical potentials of the brain.

Meanwhile, a recent study discloses that Illinois is one of nine states having 75 per cent of all measles cases reported in the nation during 1968. Earlier this year, the Illinois Department of Public Health predicted a "measles epidemic" for Illinois in 1968. The Illinois Association for the Mentally Retarded urges all parents to have their children immunized with measles vaccine as soon as possible to avoid needless tragedy.

The IAMR also urges all local health departments to provide leadership toward full immunization of all children susceptible (unprotected by vaccine) to measles in their communities.

National Institutes of Health Researchers in Bethesda, Md., Dr. Paul D. Parkman and Dr. Harry M. Meyer, Jr., have developed a test for detecting immunity to German Measles (rubella), as well as the first effective experimental vaccine against the disease. The test is both simple and reliable, according to the American Academy of Pediatrics. A physician can determine within three hours whether an expectant mother has antibody protection against the disease.

The experimental vaccine against German measles is now being used extensively in trials in this country and abroad.

III. Drivers Face Re-Examination

Secretary of State Paul Powell reminds Illinois' licensed motor vehicle operators that beginning January 1, 1969, the law will require that they be re-examined one every nine years in order to retain their driver's licenses.

"Periodic re-examination of all drivers is one of the Federal Government's requirements, and failure to comply with it would result in the loss to Illinois of 10 per cent of its allocation of Federal funds for highway purposes," Mr. Powell said.

"But what is more important," he added, "is that periodic re-examination of drivers has long been advocated by traffic safety experts as an essential weapon in the battle to reduce the death toll on streets and highways."

As the program gets under way, one-ninth of the licensed drivers will be examined each year as their licenses are due for renewal, so that all licensed drivers will have been examined by the end of the nine-year period, Secretary Powell explained.

"This procedure will result in an increase of 825,000 examinations to be given each year over the present workload, he said.

It is possible that, as the program develops, it may be necessary to re-examine drivers at shorter intervals than nine years, Mr. Powell warned. The Federal government has said re-examination should take place every four years, but added that progress toward that end would be acceptable at present. Experience gained by the various states and further consultation with Federal government officials may bring adjustments in the next few years.

The drivers being re-examined will be given the vision test, the road sign recognition test and the written test on traffic laws, and some will also be required to take the driving test, Secretary Powell said.

The decision to require the driving test will be based on the driver's past record for revocation or suspension of his license, involvement in accidents and arrests for traffic law violations, plus other factors which may come to the examiner's attention in the course of giving the other tests, Mr. Powell said.

The first drivers to be re-examined will be those with records of previous revocations or suspensions, accident involvement or convictions for traffic law violations, Secretary Powell said.

Since those drivers are in the minority, he estimated that they

Boy Drowns In Fox Lake

An overturned boat with seven passengers, spelled tragedy for an 18 year old McHenry youth on Aug. 1.

The Fox Lake Water Patrol recovered the body of Peter R. Vrasich of 510 W. Broadway, Pisakee Highlands the following Sunday morning. Peter was a 1968 graduate of McHenry High School.

The boat overturned just south of Crab Apple Island and searchers found the body near the spot. The others who had been in the boat were rescued by boaters in the area. Vrasich attempted to swim to shore for help.

would all be re-examined in three or four years.

Drivers to be examined will be notified just prior to the renewal date of their licenses, Mr. Powell said.

Article On Cancer Recommended

Every adult in the nation could benefit from the short article on cancer in the July Reader's Digest," Dr. John J. Zannini, President of the Lake County Unit of the American Cancer Society said today. "And, by every adult, I mean doctors and others in the medical profession, as well as the general public."

Titled "Time to Change Our Attitudes Toward Cancer," the article was written by Lawrence Gallon. The author and the Digest worked with the American Cancer Society in preparing this piece.

Dr. Zannini said that he wanted to call the public's attention to this timely article because he felt that too much unreasoned fear of cancer exists today. He added that such fear is especially dangerous, because it prevents people from going to their doctors with symptoms that could, but do not always mean cancer.

"The Reader's Digest article," said Dr. Zannini, "provides a positive approach to this problem of fear, by stating that cancer is not hopeless today, and gives concrete examples of the marked progress made against such individual cancers as leukemia, cervical cancer, cancer of the colon and rectum and others."

Doctors, too, are urged in the article to change their own sometimes pessimistic attitude toward cancer, and not only to encourage their patients to have regular checkups, but to have them themselves. He cites a study by New York City cancer specialist, Dr. George T. Pack, who, in a survey of doctors and scientists found that only 70.8 per cent of those questioned had ever had an examination to detect symptomless disease. "It is hardly surprising," the article quotes Dr. Pack, "that the public has not been spurred into action by efforts of health educators."

"The big hope in the fight against cancer," Dr. Zannini quotes the article, "is in detecting cancer early, when it is most readily curable. It's not easy for doctors busy with the ill to conduct routine cancer-detection examinations of symptomless patients, but it can be done. All that it requires is the conviction on the part of both doctors and patients that such examinations are important."

Grass Lake School's Tentative Budget Set at $157,100

The Grass Lake School Board met Tuesday Aug. 13 and set the date for the public hearing for the proposed budget for Sept. 10 at 8 p.m. The tentative budget is available at the school office for review.

The new budget calls for expenditures of $157,100. This is $4,500 more than last year's budget. The increase is due to increased salaries and expenses. This year approximately $3,000 must be paid out for the special education program, required by the state.

The Cubs Scouts were given permission to use the cafeteria for their annual Spagetti Dinner which will take place on September 20.

Approval was given to the hiring of Mrs. Joanna Guemmer as a speech correctionist. Mrs. Guemmer will work two half days per week.

School will start August 30, which is registration day. Registration will take place from 8:15 to 11 a.m. Busses will make their regular rounds in the morning and return the children at 9:15 a.m. Parents may bring their children to school, register them and then leave, if they prefer. Registration fee is $9.00 and insurance will be available.

The school store will be open on registration day, and the membership chairman of the PTA will be at the school to enroll members. The first full day of school will be Tuesday September 3rd. New steps and sidewalk have been installed in front of the school by Laursen and Blackman Contractors, of Antioch.

New S. S. Benefits For the Retarded

A change in the Social Security law is important to women, especially mothers of retarded children, who have worked and contributed from their earnings to the Social Security program for at least five years. Under the new law, children, including the retarded of any age, are considered dependents on both their mothers and fathers, and they may become eligible for monthly Social Security benefits when either parent becomes entitled to retirement or disability benefits or dies. Previously, children could become eligible for benefits only when the father died or qualified for retirement or disability benefits.

Founder's Day Sun. For McHenry Club

The McHenry Sportsmen's Club will celebrate Founder's Day on Sunday, August 25th at the club grounds on the west side of Pistakee Bay.

Organized way back in 1926, the club grew in size and popularity, and was incorporated as a not-for-profit organization in 1948. It has been a going concern since its inception, dealing in sportsman's equipment, marksmanship and safe gun handling. In all of its long history, there has never been a firearms accident sustained at any of its shoots.

The current slate of officers who have been entrusted with the responsibility of managing the club's affairs includes Wallace Manz, Fox Lake, president; Lewis Plizen, McHenry, vice president; Harry Stern, Antioch, secretary; and Adrian Armit, McHenry, treasurer. Directors are Arvid Hamrick, Woodstock; Robert Heywood, Antioch; and Joseph Lally, McHenry.

A special shooting program will mark the day, starting at 11 a.m. featured on the day's program will be the Hi-Lo-White Bird Shoot, designed especially for the average and beginner shooter to enable them to win an equal share of the prizes against the expert gunners.

In this one, the highest scoring gun, the lowest tallying shooter, and the lucky one who bags the white bird each wins a prize. All of the other regular events will be on the day's program too.

President Wallace Manz announced the opening of the club's membership rolls for a limited time, to fill a few vacancies. Application may be obtained at the club house Sunday.

Hagerty Wins Sat. Feature

Al Hagerty roared home the late model 50 lap feature winner at the Waukegan Speedway, Saturday night to score his second consecutive feature triumph. Jim Cossman finished second, passing Dick Vanderspool.

The semi-feature had one of the weirdest finishes in track history. The early running found Jack Ester way out in front, but Mickey Kelly caught him in the fifteenth and final lap. The two tangled down the backstretch with both spinning wildly in the third turn as a door was ripped off Ester's car.

Meanwhile Joe Nation streaked into the lead, only to be clipped by Ester in the confusion. Undaunted, Nation jammed the car in reverse and started backing around the track. The crowd went wild as Nation came out of the fourth turn backwards with Kelly, Nation and Kyllingstad bearing down on him.

Nation just crossed the finish line to win as Kelly passed him then streaked into the infield and demolished the front of his Oldsmobile as he struck a disabled race car. Kelly collected second money and Del Kyllingstad was third.

The heat races were hotly contested as three of them were not decided until the drivers crossed the finish line. In the very next race, Doles passed Moore at the checkered to score a second heat triumph. Vanderspool breezed home the winner in the third heat but a tight battle between Bob Anzinger and Hagerty kept the crowd on the edge of their seats until Hagerty slipped by with one lap to go.

Charles Becher led all of the way to win his first hobby stock feature with Steve and Chuck Chadwick in the next two positions. Each of the Chadwick brothers scored a heat race win.

Pinspotters Hold Meeting Fri. Nite

The Pinspotters in the Friday Night Bowling League had to reschedule their meeting last Friday due to the weather.

They will meet tomorrow (Fri.) at 7:45 p.m. at the Antioch Bowl.

Cornwallis surrendered at Yorktown in the Revolutionary War Oct. 19, 1781.

Antioch All Stars Take 4th Place

The Antioch All Stars of the Babe Ruth League behind the pitching of Chip Gross walloped the Gurnee All Stars 17-2 in 5 innings. Chip gave up 3 hits and struck out 12 boys. Dan Sterbenz was top batter going 3-4 and Dale Dvorak slugged out a home run.

The second game was against Round Lake and Antioch won 6-1. Steve Bentele was the pitcher for Antioch giving up 4 hits and striking out 16. The only run for Round Lake came off the bat of Hollis in the 2nd inning when he banged out a home run. Antioch got their 1st run in the 3rd with Rockow scoring on a single hit by Camp. In the 4th inning Gross hit a single, Stahl got a base on balls and Toman came up with a single and Antioch went ahead.

Dabiero Returns To Player Ranks

Angelo Dabiero, general manager of the Lake County Rifles, Waukegan, Ill., in the Central States Football League, will return to player ranks this season.

The Notre Dame All American will divide his time between the Rifles front office as general manager, and flanker back on the field. He will also assist head coach Gene Chichowski with pass receivers.

Three other exhibition games are scheduled for Saturday, winding up pre-season exhibition play. The West Allis Spartans, who lost a close one to last year's championship Rifles last Saturday, meet the Racine Raiders at Racine, 8:05 p.m. The game will be played at Horlick field.

The Sheboygan Red-Wings who have been trounced by Delavan and Omaha in the first two pre-season games, take on the Manitowish Chiefs, at the Manitowish municipal athletic field, 8 p.m.

The fourth game brings the known quality of the resurgent Delavan Red Raiders, victorious over the Red Wings by a lop-sided 32-0 score, meeting the Madison Mustangs, who walloped Burlington last weekend with a super-lop-sided score of 103-0. Madison's potential has not been tested as yet, whereas Delavan is making a strong bid for league honors at an early date. The game will be held at Madison's Warner Field, 7:30 p.m.

Saturday Antioch played the Kope Star Chiefs of Waukegan and the tables were turned, Antioch losing 17-2. Gross was the losing pitcher with Dvorak coming in as relief pitcher. Dvorak collected his 2nd home run of the tournament and Gross got a hit. Sunday Antioch played Morton Grove for third place and again took a beating 16-0. This game was called after the 5th inning. Bentele took the loss for Antioch. Only 2 hits were made again by Antioch, 1 a piece for Camp and Popose.

Highland Park won this tournament with Waukegan coming in second. Gurnee received the Sportsmanship Trophy.

Rain Cancels Races Sunday At Waukegan

After thirteen consecutive modified stock car racing programs at the Waukegan Speedway without a rainout, showers right before time trials cancelled the Summer Championship card at the track Sunday.

Promoter Gordon Sill announced the 50 lap feature scheduled for that night will be run next Sunday night and double championship points will be awarded in all events.

Point leader John Reimer's A3 modified will be the car to beat as he is fresh off a 40 lap win here last Sunday night. Behind Reimer in the point standings in order are: Whitey Harris, Bill Bohn, Roger Von Otto, Tom Anderson and Claude Potter.

Championship Race At Wilmot Saturday

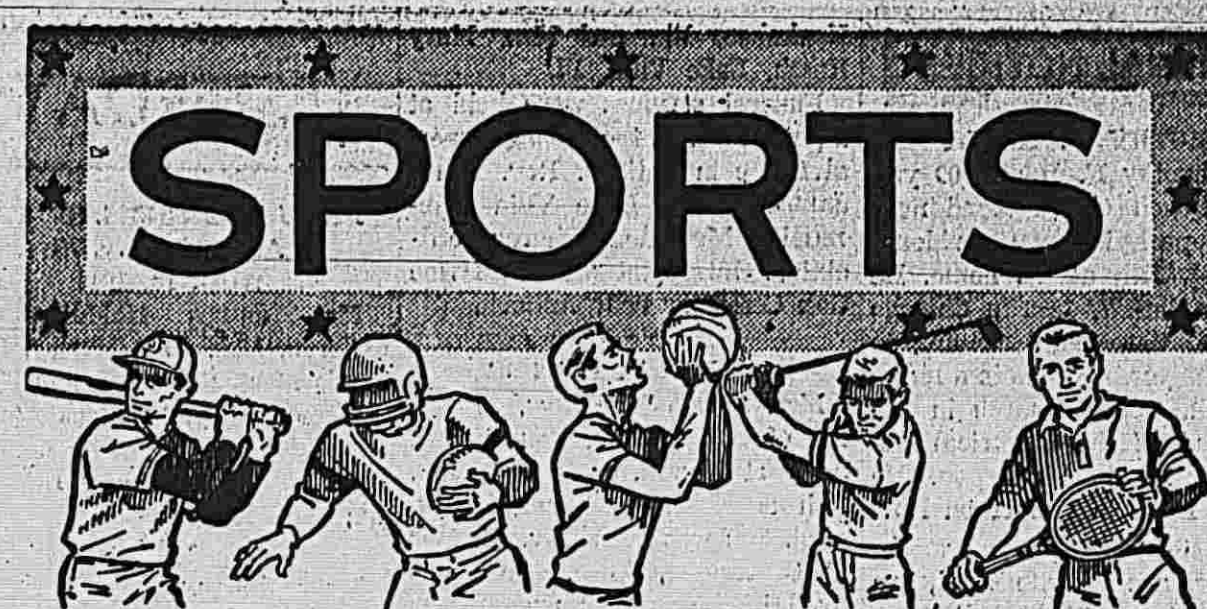

The late model stock cars will race in a Season Championship Race at the Kenosha County Speedway in Wilmot this Saturday night, August 24. The race will be for 30 laps and will carry $5.00 lap prize for each lap led providing the remaining laps are sold prior to race time.

The starting field for the late models will be limited to the top 16 in point standings with the point leader, Tim Seyl in the 16th spot. Time trials for the late models on this night will still determine their starting positions in the heat races.

In addition to the points, the modified drivers will be racing for a purse that now totals over $7,000.00.

Tim Seyl, Arnie Hausmann and Jack Ashenbrenner are still in contention in the late model chase for champion and Whitey Harris, Roger Otto and Bill Bohn, still could be the Champion of the super-fast modifieds at Wilmot for 1968.

A good way to insure a place in the sun is to get to a picnic area late.

Harris Wins 7th Feature At Wilmot

It took nearly an hour from start to finish for the modified feature race Saturday at the Kenosha County Speedway, but at the end fans were well rewarded for a splendid race that had all the excitement and close running that thrills fans of auto racing.

The several delays were caused by the hot competition of the 16 cars starting the feature race. Al Schill, Bill Bohn, Jim Bozeman and Mouse Wade were involved in the first tangle on the opening lap. The cars were nearly ready for the green flag when Jim Sullivan pulled off and Whitey Harris ran up and over the wheel on Wade's car. This delay was only a short one and then at the drop of the green flag, Tom Anderson shot his yellow jacket modified into the lead. Eddie Loomis was second for five laps out. Ken Hanson raced by him and was running for the front when his car broke a king pin. This started a chain of events that ended up with three cars badly damaged and driver Bill Bohn in the Rescue Ambulance with a cut knee.

All the races prior to the feature were progressing smoothly with Lauren Lawrence winning the first heat and Jr. Dodd, Loomis and Sorce picking up the next heat race checkers.

Jr. Dodd came back to win the semi-feature race after taking the lead away from Lawrence, who finished second ahead of Bob Ratajczyk, Jim Fiscus, J. W. Jamerson and Ken Monroe.

A spin by Tim Seyl in the late model feature added to the chances by three drivers who had qualified faster than he had for the feature, to win the bonus money. However, the winner of the feature race was Mike Jacobl who had started in the first row. Seyl had been lapped while he was spun and had unlapped himself from every car but Jacobl's as he crossed the finish line just behind Mike finishing in 6th place. Jack Ashenbrenner was second then Herb Arhnet and Arnie Hausmann.

Other late model events were won by Don Pulera, Tom Teske, Ralph Sinnen and Richard Fourrier.

The only change in the first ten in point standing order was the move of Don Sorce from 7th to 6th ahead of Jim Sullivan. While Harris gained on both Otto and Bohn in the point standings again, neither are out for the championship should Harris have difficulty. Harris has now won seven feature races at Wilmot this year and the possibility of him hitting a slump now with only three races remaining are very remote.

N-I-Gas Offering Incinerators

Gas incinerators provide homeowners with more than just convenience, say Northern Illinois Gas Company appliance experts.

"By having the accumulation of waste paper and other combustible refuse eliminated, owners of gas incinerators have peace of mind knowing that they have rid their homes of a major fire hazard," says Robert White, coordinator sales promotion plans.

NI-Gas is currently offering its customers savings of $40.00 on new gas incinerators purchased from the utility. During a 30-day trial period—NI-Gas will refund the purchase price and remove the appliance if the purchaser is not satisfied. The utility offers up to 48-month financing.

White said that the average yearly operating cost of an incinerator is $16.52—often cheaper than paying for refuse collection.

The special NI-Gas offer ends September 30. Additional information may be obtained by visiting or calling any of the company's offices or stores.

Make Safe Decisions In Driving Emergencies

Good athletes squeeze out tight plays with split-second decisions. They are trained to do it. Good drivers, too, have to know well in advance what to do in tight situations.

The Chicago Motor Club-AAA has prepared the following suggestions to improve your driving in these crises by preparing you to make the safe decision:

the affair were: Mrs. Bernice Schwan, leader, Mrs. Kay Halvorsen, co-leader, Mrs. Marie Nemec, troop committee and three senior scouts, Nancy Nemec, Gail Frasier and Pat Byrnes.

Mrs. P. T. Larson of Frostproof, Fla., is the guest of her son, Ted, and family.

—Your brake pedal drops lifelessly to the floorboard and suddenly you have a runaway car.

Pull emergency hand brake a series of short, swift pumps to build up pressure in the hydraulic system. Try to shift to low gear. Edge to side of the road and look for field or road shoulder.

—Your gas pedal sticks and your car shoots ahead into traffic.

Don't jam your brakes . . . turn off ignition key! Put transmission in neutral and then brake gently until you can pull off the road.

—You stop for a red light and hear the screech of brakes . . . your rear view mirror shows a truck behind you, which can't stop in time and is about to crash into your rear.

Release foot brake and flop over on your side in the seat. Ducking down will avoid a dangerous "whiplash" injury to your neck, caused when the solid body is hurled forward by a blow from the rear while your unsupported head is snapped forcefully backward. As soon as you feel impact, apply your brakes to keep out of the cross traffic.

Always be prepared for this situation by looking ahead for an out-a-place to get away from trouble. Swerve off the road into a bush (not a tree); strike a parked car a glancing blow. If a collision with the oncoming car appears unavoidable try to touch bumpers on an angle, doing what ever necessary to avoid a head-on collision. Sound horn . . . jam on brakes . . . switch off ignition and brace yourself. Release brake before impact.

—You encounter a drunk or "mad" driver weaving from lane to lane.

Don't try to pass him! Brake and let him go ahead. Avoid these drivers like poison. Stay behind him . . . don't risk pulling up alongside his car.

—Driving at night, your headlights suddenly go out.

Don't panic! Gradually slow down. See if parking, spot or fog lights still work. Take flashlight from your glove compartment and aim it out the window. Pull to the side of the road. (Note: Always carry a working flashlight in your glove compartment.)

—A car, passing, you cuts too closely in front of you . . . forcing you to swerve and your right wheel drops off the pavement.

Don't yank car back on the road. You may jump into the oncoming traffic lane. And don't slam on your brakes! Ease up on the gas. Steer so that front and rear wheels are about three feet off pavement but parallel with it. When slowed sufficiently and in full control turn back sharply to the pavement.

—In heavy traffic you have a blowout in your right front tire.

Don't panic! Don't brake! Don't accelerate! Grip wheel and steer in a straight line. When you have the car under control you can start touching foot brake lightly. Keep going until you reach a safe place to stop or turn off.

—You suddenly hit a fog bank so thick you can't see ahead.

You fear being struck from behind. Scout the right edge of the road for a safe spot to pull off the pavement, wait until the fog lifts.

One impression we get from today's militant college students is that 10 years from now it's going to be a little tough getting them to contribute to the alumni fund.

Don't panic! Don't brake! Don't accelerate! Grip wheel and steer in a straight line. When you have the car under control you can start touching foot brake lightly. Keep going until you reach a safe place to stop or turn off.

—You suddenly hit a fog bank so thick you can't see ahead.

You fear being struck from behind. Scout the right edge of the road for a safe spot to pull off the pavement, wait until the fog lifts.

One impression we get from today's militant college students is that 10 years from now it's going to be a little tough getting them to contribute to the alumni fund.

Always be prepared for this situation by looking ahead for an out-a-place to get away from trouble. Swerve off the road into a bush (not a tree); strike a parked car a glancing blow. If a collision with the oncoming car appears unavoidable try to touch bumpers on an angle, doing what ever necessary to avoid a head-on collision. Sound horn . . . jam on brakes . . . switch off ignition and brace yourself. Release brake before impact.

—You encounter a drunk or "mad" driver weaving from lane to lane.

Don't try to pass him! Brake and let him go ahead. Avoid these drivers like poison. Stay behind him . . . don't risk pulling up alongside his car.

—Driving at night, your headlights suddenly go out.

Don't panic! Gradually slow down. See if parking, spot or fog lights still work. Take flashlight from your glove compartment and aim it out the window. Pull to the side of the road. (Note: Always carry a working flashlight in your glove compartment.)

—A car, passing, you cuts too closely in front of you . . . forcing you to swerve and your right wheel drops off the pavement.

Don't yank car back on the road. You may jump into the oncoming traffic lane. And don't slam on your brakes! Ease up on the gas. Steer so that front and rear wheels are about three feet off pavement but parallel with it. When slowed sufficiently and in full control turn back sharply to the pavement.

—In heavy traffic you have a blowout in your right front tire.
